Outline Duties Of L-W High's Advisory Groups

The first general meeting of the various Lincoln-Way high school lay citizens' committees was held Thursday night in the new all-purpose room of the school.

The welcome was extended by Attorney A. H. Krusemark, president of the board of education. A. Hunter Chapman, principle of the school, introduced the central consulting committee members. Affiliated committee members were introduced by Robert Geuther, Mokena chairman.

Those present learned the method of selection committees the major aims of the citizen's committee, including prospective long range objectives as well as immediate short-range objectives.

The affiliated committees then had individual group meetings in various rooms. The curriculum group studies objectives and philosophy of the educational program. The study of various schools funds, source of revenue, tax rates, valuations, salary schedules and comparison with other districts are the aims of the finance committee.

The physical equipment committee studies the building needs based on population growth and educational objects... site development... use of buildings by the community and review of transportation policies, cost and services.

Two Tinley Men Get Life For Brutal Attack On Farmwife

Two Tinley Park men arrested for a brutal attack on a farmwife in the Peotone area last Thanksgiving eve pleaded guilty to the charge in the Will county circuit court Monday (Jan. 23) and each was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Illinois state penitentiary. They have been delivered to the diagnostic center at Joliet.

Under sentence, which was pronounced by Circuit Judge James V. Bartley, of Joliet, are Keithel Farmer, 22, of 178th and Sayre ave., and Arthur Darby 21, of 18037 Highland ave.

The pair had been indicted by the January Will county grand jury on rape, burglary and armed robbery. They were represented in court by Thomas Vinson, public defender. Last week the two prisoners pleaded innocent and trial was set for Monday.

As soon as the two were brought into court from the county jail they signified they wished to change their pleas. Thereupon they withdrew their pleas of innocent and entered pleas of guilty to the rape charge.

After being warned by the court as to the consequences of such a plea and it was pointed out that under the law they could be sentenced to any term of years, including a life sentence, the two persisted in the plea of guilty and sentence was pronounced. In sentencing the pair to life imprisonment the court followed the recommendation of State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, who appeared in person for the prosecution.

A life sentence means that the two men will not be eligible to apply for parole until they have served 20 years.

Both men, Masters pointed out, have served previous prison sentences.

Also on the motion of State's Attorney Masters the court dismissed the burglary and robbery indictments.

Farmer and Darby will be examined at the diagnostic center and then assigned to a prison, probably Stateville. The processing usually requires about three weeks.

Hats Start Popping Into Rings On Village Greens

Monday Jan. 23, was the first day for filing nominating petitions for village offices but there was not great rush to get the ball rolling in this particular area.

Candidates have until Feb. 27 in which to file their petitions, which incidentally may be obtained from the village clerks. Election day is April 18.

Several of the incumbents are reported to have declined to seek another term but there are those who will.

James Mart, mayor of Mokena, for one, will be a candidate for a second term, and Alvin Sorensen, Mokena village clerk, will seek re-election.

There are to be four trustees elected in Mokena, three for regular four-year terms and one for two years, to fill out the unexpired term of Ray Westlund, resigned. David McMillan, who had served previously on the board, was appointed to fill Westlund's place until the village election this April.

McMillan is reported to be a candidate to complete the term and Stanley Williams is said to be a candidate for re-election to a four-year term.

Phil Hacker and Charles Hostert, whose terms expire this spring, will not be candidate for re-election, it was stated.

A police magistrate also is to be elected. John Balaz is now serving as magistrate. It was not reported if he would seek another term.

At New Lenox interest at the moment appears to be in the office of police magistrate. The incumbent, Otto Bormet, will be a candidate for reelection and so far is reported to have two opponents, James Sherwood, who operates a tavern and is completing a term this spring as justice of the peace, and Jerry Shreffler, who operates an oil station.

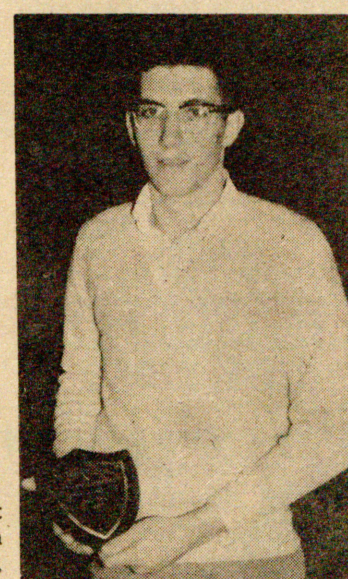

The three incumbent trustees Ronald Vondrasek, Noel Elliott and Keith Hossack, are reported to have declined to seek re-election. So far three are reported to have taken out petitions for trustee, Neatus Wilson, Robert Randolph and Donald Anderson, who was a candidate for mayor in the village election two years ago.

Only the police magistrate and three trustees are to be elected at New Lenox.

In Frankfort the terms of the mayor, village clerk, police magistrate and three trustees expire this spring. In reality there will be four trustees elected, one to fill the unexpired term of Amos (Ted) Massey, resigned.

The mayor, George Sangmeister, will seek another term, as will Walter Pfaff, village clerk, and Herbert Folkers, police magistrate.

There is plenty of room for candidates for trustee, it was pointed out, as the three incumbents, Milton Subbert, Glenn Warning and Lynn Kohlman, will not seek re-election, it was stated.

Lincoln Way Adopts New Set Up For Step Up Day

Lincoln Way high school has changed the annual Step-Up Day testing program seeking to insure a better placement for incoming freshmen.

This new approach should aid us in planning the program and course selection for new Lincoln-Way students," said Donald J. D'Amico, assistant principal in outlining plan.

All tests will be given at the local grade schools this year. In the past the students have been brought to the high school for the exams.

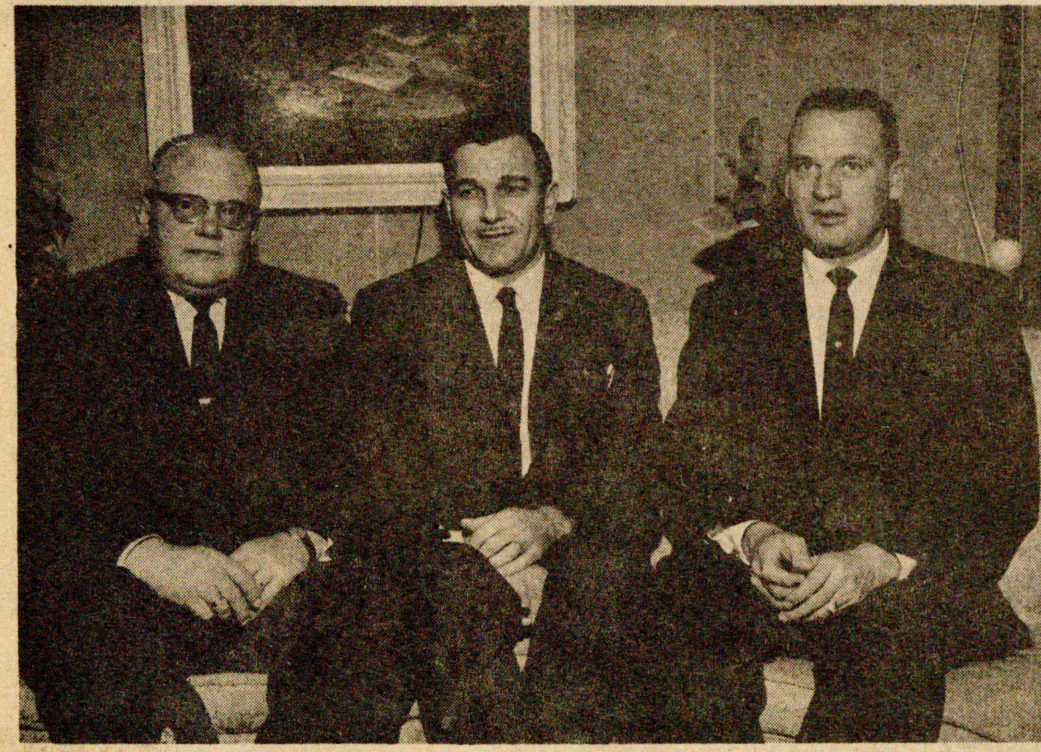

Lincoln-Way will consider the results of the Step-up day tests and then consult with the elementary teachers before they begin scheduling for the 1961-62 freshman class. This is the most important feature of the new plan. Mr. D'Amico expects this consultation to be very helpful in student placement.

Schedule as follows:
Jan. 30, St. Mary's school, Mokena and St. Jude's, New Lenox; Jan. 31, Mokena grade school, including pupils from Marley school and Frankfort grade school including pupils from Weitendorf school; Feb. 1, Haven school, New Lenox, including pupils from Schuyl and Union schools, and Manhattan grade school, including pupils from Reiter and St. Joseph (Manhattan) schools; Feb. 2, Summit Hill and Ann Rutledge grade schools.

NEW OFFICERS of Frankfort Chamber of Commerce were installed last week at the annual dinner meeting of the organization. The new president, Ralph Show (right), of Cooper-Show auto dealers, succeeds H. W. Remien (left) as chamber president. Mr. Remien, who is cashier of the Frankfort State bank, was elected treasurer. In the center is the new secretary, Lee Robinson. Grant B. Geuther, elected Vice president was not available at the time the picture was taken.

A similar charge against Theoblast Slettebo was dismissed, Judge Werner said, because the complaining witness failed to appear.

Schools Share Interest
On Tax Reserve Funds

(CNS) — Suburban school districts are in line for a windfall of more than $100,000 under terms of a tax case report approved by Judge John F. Bolton of Superior court.

Elementary and high school districts in Lemont township are allocated a total of $281.57 in the report — those in Orland township, $446.14; Bremen township, $2,226.72; Rich township, $1,731.69; and Palos township, $1,108.87.

It was submitted by County Auditor Lee Howard following a ruling by Judge Bolton that school districts must get the interest earned on their proportionate share of tax reserve funds invested by the county treasurer's office since 1954.

All interest earned on such investments had been put into the county's general fund. But two south suburban school district attorneys successfully challenged this in a lawsuit.

Judge Bolton ruled that under amended state statutes the school districts are entitled to their share of earnings on invested tax reserve funds.

Reserves are held from tax collections in order to refund tax money on levies later found to be illegal by the courts.

It has been the policy of the office of County Treasurer Francis Lorenz to invest these reserve funds in 90 day, interest-bearing securities.

Here's the amount of the windfall for local school districts. (The amount will be decreased by the pro rata share of fees and costs yet to be submitted to the court by the two lawyers who filed the suit on behalf of all school districts. They are Arthur E. Dillner and Ronald J. Crane.)

Congress PTA's, Associated Junior Leagues of America, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Nat'l. Council Catholic Men, Nat'l. Council Catholic Women, Kiwanis International and other groups.

The effectiveness of the program, however, will be determined by how much interest is developed at local level; it was pointed out.

Schools Share Interest

(CNS) — Suburban school districts are in line for a windfall of more than $100,000 under terms of a tax case report approved by Judge John F. Bolton of Superior court.

Safety Gates Needed

The crossing fatality in Orland Park earlier this month has caused some persons in the community to wonder when it will happen again. This is not the first time a person has been killed on the Wabash railroad crossing on 143rd street in Orland Park and it is not likely it will be the last, unless better protection is provided for persons who have occasion to cross the tracks.

There are no safety gates there and while gates are no guarantee that no one will be killed by a train at this spot, because after all gates cannot control the acts or thoughts of fools, they would provide needed protection.

The only protection on 143rd st. consists of flasher lights and in bright sunlight these lights are difficult to see. There are warning bells but if the weather is such that car windows are closed one may not hear them.

A few years ago when the village council was pressing the railroad and the Illinois commerce commission for installation of safety gates on 143rd st. representatives of the ICC, at a village board meeting, stated that the commerce commission did not recommend safety gates where there was but one main line of tracks. The theory back of this is that a motorist waiting for a train to pass might drive into the side or path of a train going in the opposite direction on the other main.

This may be a firm policy with the ICC now but it hasn't always been the case apparently, because on the Wabash crossing on 135th st., which carries far less traffic than 143rd street, there are gates.

There is a switch track at 143rd street too so it is conceivable that a train could pull in on that while a train was passing on the main line and thus set the stage for an accident.

We think the installation of gates on 143rd street would be an excellent move on the part of the railroad. The railroad, of course, probably would say that it cannot install gates without an order from the ICC and the ICC is on record as opposed to safety gates under such conditions as exist at that particular crossing.

We would like to see the ICC change its policy. We think gates would make the crossing safer. We also would like to see gates installed on the Francis road crossing of the Wabash where three persons were killed on Christmas day of 1959.

View of approaching trains at this crossing is obscured much of the year. Even in winter there is a line of brush north of Francis road so that west bound motorists could not see a southbound train until they are at the tracks.

True, gates cost money but money can be replaced. Lives can't.

Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

"The internal revenue department," remarked Jefferson Throttlebottom, "bourbon fancier and moocher de luxe, "has just dealt a severe blow to those interested in the improvement of the breed of thoroughbred running horses. And I say that if this nosiness of Uncle Sam's minions continues along these lines no advocate of the fast buck will be safe."

This department being somewhat acquainted with the machinations of Jeff's mind simply sat and waited. He liked to hear himself talk and sooner or later got around to what he was talking about.

"I happened to be listening to radio the other night," Jeff went on, "when a newscaster said that the revenue boys planned to employ a new gimmick. They were putting the race tracks to work for the government. Any person who wins $600 or more will be required to identify himself before he can collect and such identification will be turned over to the income tax crowd."

"Nothing much more was said on the subject and I have not seen anything about it in the printed word so have no idea how far they intend to go on this identification angle. Certainly it would seem more than just a name and address would be required, otherwise the income tax boys would probably find themselves with a list of such monikers as, John (not Jack) F. Kennedy, White House; J. Edgar Hoover, Washington; Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona; Richard Nixon, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Bing Crosby, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Harry Truman, the Duchess of Windsor and many others equally well known."

"Of course," Jeff continued, "it may be that the income tax crew is merely shadow boxing or maybe listening to horseplayers lying about how much they won. Not many turf investors collect $600 or more on a race and if they do you can lay two to one they won't have that much when they leave the track."

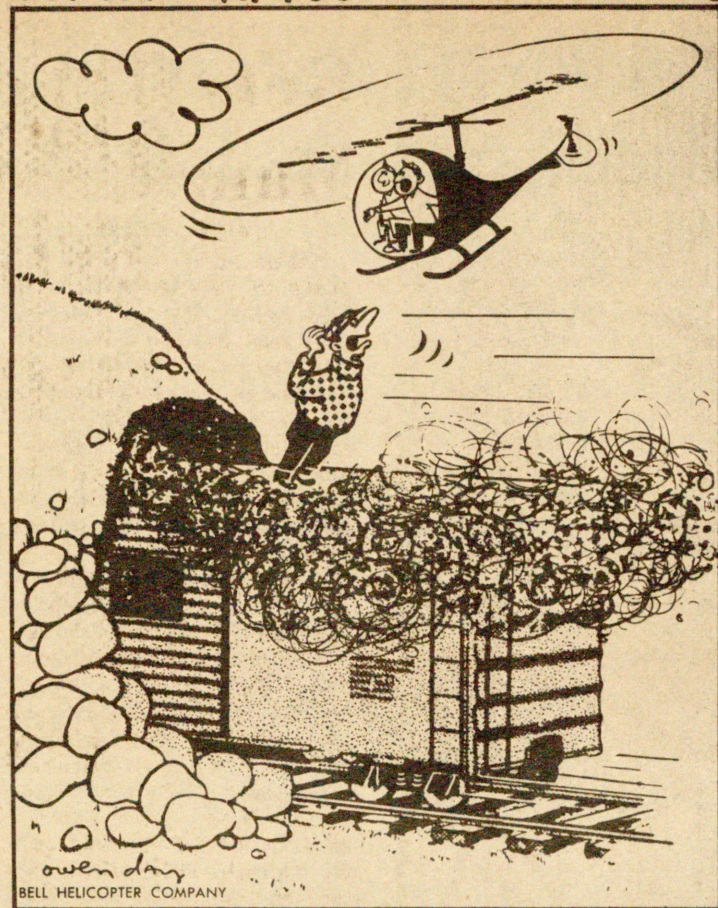

"Now I am curious as to what will happen if some punter is successful in getting into some handbook for $600 or more. Under the present law the operators of horse parlors are required to pay a license fee plus a certain percentage of the handle to Uncle Sam. If the player has to pay a tax on $600 or more of winnings you will hear a cry of anguish that will rise above the exclamations of surprise that anyone was able to score so well."

"I remember once," Jeff went on, "of having a dream about a horse. I could see a page of Racing Form as clearly as if it were actually before me. It showed some entries at one of the smaller tracks and standing out in bold face capitals was the name BEES. "Well, naturally I looked at the Form next morning and by golly, there was a list of entries at a western track and listed as the best bet was a horse named BEES and it was printed bold face and in caps, just as I saw it in the dream.

"I could hardly wait for the book to open. I figured that with such a dream I had a mortal cinch to really clean up. I figured it was my lucky day and when a $2 bet in the first race at a midwest track brought in $18 I was sure of it."

"I put the $18 on a Whitney horse that was going in Maryland and it came in and paid three to one so I had $54 plus the $18 and put the $72 on another horse at the same track and darned if it don't win at five to one. With my $72 I have $432 and shoved in the bundle on Bees who was three to one in the morning line."

"So I sat there pleasantly day dreaming. Even if Bees only pays two to one, I reason I will have over $1,200 and contemplating some of the things I can do with that much money because I was convinced that Bees would come down in front by about three lengths, breezing and with his mouth wide open to use a term for an easy win.

"I got up to go over to see if there was any word yet on Bees because he was going at a small track, as I said, and there was no call on the results from there. The loud speaker was on and a voice was apparently repeating the outcome of the fifth race at New York--".....handicap was won by James G. Butler's fine colt Sting at 12 to 1....Sting was an added starter."

"So I turned around and walked out. I didn't have to wait. I knew what would happen and it did. Bees ran out of the money. Being an added starter Sting's name did not appear in the entries available. So there I was, on the wrong end of the bee -- and really stung."

"The only comfort I had was the knowledge it didn't cost me much -- I was only out the $2 I bet in the first race. But to be honest there was precious little comfort in that."

WILLIAM F. WHITESIDE
COOK COUNTY ASSOC.
FARM ADVISER
Tinley Park, KE 2-4374

Earl Siemsen, chairman of the Soil Conservation District asked that I remind you of the Soil Conservation District annual meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 10, at the Farm Bureau building in Tinley Park. Balber Dhillon, a student from India studying agriculture in the United States, will be the speaker.

Two directors will be elected. The nominating committee to select the directors are: Herbert Kohl, Matteson, chairman; William Stelter and Arthur Brandau, Tinley Park. Retiring directors are: Earl Siemsen and Robert Breitbarth, Tinley Park.

Lake-Cook Farm Supply is a cooperative dedicated to the service of farmers. At a recent board meeting, Arthur Maue, Tinley Park, was re-elected treasurer of the company, and Charles Erickson, Mokena, was re-elected to the executive committee. Henry Eichholz, Glenview, is the newly elected president of the board of directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. Eichholz is also president of the Cook County Farm Bureau.

The Cook County Vegetable Growers school played to a packed house at the South Holland municipal building. Cultural problems such as weed, insect and disease control were discussed. Many new chemical weed control products are on the horizon; however, Alden Miller of the Downers Grove Experiment Station cautioned growers to use these new chemicals on a limited basis until they are sure how effective these chemicals are in controlling weeds.

Bill Luckmann of the Illinois Natural History Survey reported that the recommendation for controlling onion maggots had been changed somewhat for seed treatment. In using diazinon, the recommendation has been lowered from one pound to one-half pound for 40-50 pounds of seed.

For details concerning control of insects on all vegetable crops, contact my office for further information or literature, which is available free.

We are again planning to use demonstration plots in chemical weed control and disease control in vegetable crops. Last year's cooperators in these projects were: Rich Biesboer, South Holland, weed control; C. J. Rietveld and Sons, Ralph Paarlberg, Judd Dalenberg, all of South Holland, in onion disease control; John Wagner, Jim Paarlberg and Ralph Vanderzee, South Holland, insect control. We appreciate the cooperation of these men in helping us demonstrate the use of some of the newer techniques and chemicals for pest control in vegetable crops.

Representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture, reported that a new colorimeter is being used experimentally to determine suitable color in tomato grading. This method should make tomato grading more exacting with less possibility for human error.

The possible effects of new regulations concerning housing for farm labor and the possible unionization of farm labor were also discussed at the meeting.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL,
ASST FARM ADVISER

Many homes have been brightened during the past holiday season by a beautiful azalea plant. If purchased with many buds and just a few open flowers the plant should still be in bloom at this time.

After the holidays each year, many people call my office for information on proper care of azaleas and how the plants can be made to flower again.

Azaleas hold up remarkably well in the warm dry atmosphere of our homes. However, these conditions cause the plants to bloom out too quickly and the blossoms last only a short time.

If at all possible, the plants should be kept in a cool place while they flower. This is especially important at night. A 55 to 60 degree night temperature is ideal. During the day keep the plant in a south window where it will get plenty of light. Never let the soil dry out. When the soil becomes quite dry, water the plant thoroughly and allow the excess water to drain away. Do not keep the plant standing in water.

Azaleas can be re-bloomed if proper conditions are provided. Keep the plant growing in a cool location and remove blooms as they wither. If leaves turn yellow, fertilize with 1/2 teaspoon of ammonium sulfate and 1/2 teaspoon of iron sulfate in a quart of water.

In mid-May, plunge the pot in a semi-shaded, somewhat protected spot outside. Surrounding the pot with moist peat will help hold moisture in the soil ball. Don't neglect during the summer. Water and fertilize regularly, and watch for pests such as red spiders, mealy-bugs, aphids, and slugs.

Before mid-summer (by July 1), carefully shape your azalea by removing the tips of all rapidly growing shoots. Keep the plant outdoors in the fall as long as you can. But before frost, bring it inside to full sun in a very cool room. Aim at a temperature of 40 degrees to 50 degrees F. from November until the first of the year. An unheated sunroom or enclosed porch is ideal. Or the plant may be given some protection outside in a coldframe until quite cold weather arrives. Continue to give good care during this cool period when flower buds are developing, but withhold fertilizer and reduce watering. Without the cold treatment, no flowers would form.

As the buds continue to swell in January or early February, move the plant to a sunny window in a somewhat warmer room and apply liquid fertilizer. The temperature for forcing should be near 60 degrees F. at night (10 to 12 degrees warmer during the day), with plenty of humidity in the air. In a few weeks, flowering begins -- and your efforts will be lavishly rewarded. At excessive temperatures, buds may "blast." To prolong flowering remove green shoots as they develop around the flower buds.

Much of the above information on azaleas as well as similar information on other plants can be found in a bulletin, "Flowering Gift Plants," available at the Farm Adviser's office, Farm Bureau Building, 201 North Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, Illinois.

It is likely political pressures will bring about moves that are intended to stimulate business in a manner which will increase business activity thru lowering of interest rates and governmental spending on roads, etc.

Too often such efforts to stimulate the economy are intended as temporary expedients, but are difficult to change as segments of the populace favored by these moves, assume a vested interest in status quo.

The substantial loss of gold indicates there is some fear in financial circles of the world, that we will not be able, politically, to control the situation without change in gold price. Many analysts believe the western world will work closely on and devaluation and other currencies quickly adjusting to our position. Informed persons of the western world, are well aware that an economic war between the Communist nations and the western world, has been in existence for some time and is unlikely to be concluded soon if we value our existence as democracies.

The Upper Room

READ COLOSSIANS 3:12-17
Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus, (Philippians 2:5)

One sunny spring morning I was a guest in a rural home in Minnesota. While I was sitting in the living room reading a book, my hostess came in. As we talked briefly, she went to the window and turned some flower pots. I asked her why she disturbed the lovely plants. She replied, "Plants grow toward the light; and if they are not turned occasionally, they do not grow straight."

After she left the room, I pondered what she had said. Growing toward the light became a searching test for me. I thought of Jesus' words, "I am the light of the world." Across the centuries I heard Him say again, "Learn of me," "Follow me."

The Christian life is not static but expansive. There are always deeper insights to gain and loftier heights to scale. Even Paul confessed that he had not arrived, but still reached out for the goal. It is we who fix the limits of diving blessings we receive. It is not a question of God's willingness to give, but of our capacity and willingness to receive.

PRAYER: Help us, dear Father, to look unto Jesus, our Saviour and Master, and learn of Him: learn to trust Thee as He did, to obey as He obeyed, to love as He loved, to walk as He walked, and to serve with His compassion. In His Name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.
In the school of Christ we always have deeper insights to gain and loftier heights to scale. Theodore W. Anderson (Illinois)

Gas Co. Breaks Record In Below Zero Weather

Northern Illinois Gas Company's 24-hour sendout record was broken three straight days as below zero temperatures ushered in winter thruout the utility's 20-county service area in northern Illinois.

The 24-hour record of 630 million cubic feet established last Wednesday (December 21) when 740 million cubic feet of natural gas was used. The following day (Thursday, December 22) NI-Gas' customers used 820 million cubic feet, and Friday (December 23) the total reached a new record high of 875 million cubic feet.

NI-Gas Vice President Mathew G. Markle attributed the record use not only to the frigid temperatures but the fact that about 67,000 customers have installed gas heat equipment since last winter. More than 400,000 of the utility's 700,000 customers now use gas for space heating.

To meet the record-breaking demands, NI-Gas used about 640 million cubic feet daily from its pipeline supply as well as drawing additional supplies from the Herscher underground storage and its own Troy Grove underground storage reservoir which is in operation for the first time this winter.

Markle said the company's distribution system functioned without major trouble during the winter's first cold wave. He said that NI-Gas was prepared to meet even colder weather in that the company still had about 125 million cubicfeet to gas still available eachday if needed.

Markle reported that the performance of the Troy Grove facilities during the record-breaking days indicates the storage reservoir is operating as anticipated. NI-Gas withdrew up to 100 million cubic feet from Troy Grove each of the three record breaking days. In addition to Troy Grove, NI-Gas obtained a three-day total of about 300 million cubic feet of gas from its supply stored in the Herscher underground storage reservoir.

He said this winter's plans call for a maximum withdrawal of about 100 million cubic feet per day from Troy Grove. NI-Gas now is installing necessary equipment that will make Troy Grove even more useful to meet customer demands next winter.

NI-Gas also is seeking additional underground storage areas on a continuing basis. The company is hopeful that the Illinois Commerce Commission will give early approval of its plans to test and develop a similar reservoir near Crescent City, 25 miles south of Kankakee, where a porous sandstone structure in that area indicates the reservoir there also will store natural gas.

Markle pointed out that underground storage reservoirs such as Troy Grove make it possible to store natural gas during the summer for use during cold weather when pipeline supplies need be supplemented to meet customer demands.

"Underground storage of natural gas in the summer for use in the winter to augment pipeline supplies enables us to serve many more customers who want to use natural gas for heating," Markle said. "Additional pipelines could be installed from the southwest to our service area, but each would cost at least about 20 times more than underground storage reservoirs such as the one we have developed at Troy Grove."

This project was begun by Mrs. Robert Jenkins, 12221 S. Union St., Mrs. Carl Stevens, 12050 S. Emerald Ave., Mrs. Charles Fox, 12225 S. Union St., Mrs. Elmer Gauger, and her daughter Kathy, 11731 S. Calumet Ave., with her friend Barbara Adams, 10607 S. State St.

Ladies and gentlemen with special talents they would like to offer bedfast patients at Oak Forest Hospital, will be more than welcomed during the long winter months.

There are both day and evening assignments available for those with and without special talents. One popular evening assignment is participating in games with the patients on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30.

The bedfast patients also enjoy seeing travel slides taken by volunteers during vacations in this country and abroad.

Ladies and gentlemen wishing to share a viewing of their slides with patients at Oak Forest Hospital, 159th and S. Cicero Ave., may contact Mrs. Edith M. Smith, director of volunteer services, at WA 8-4200, or FU 8-2360, to schedule a convenient date.

Plan Activities To Mark Boy Scout Week

A wide variety of events and activities are planned throughout the area in celebration of Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7-13, it was announced by Abe Davis, president of the Pokagon Trails, Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Under the national theme for the fifty-first anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, "Strengthen America... Character Counts," the area's 12,273 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and volunteer leaders will be involved in activities with public officials and with the community institutions that sponsor Scouting units.

Traditional Boy Scout Sabbath and Boy Scout Sunday services will be held Feb. 10, 11, and 12 at many churches and synagogues with Scouts taking part, and sermons built around Boy Scout ideals and purposes.

Many organizations will be devoting their meetings and luncheons to special Boy Scout programs.

Local boy members will be recognized for having earned the 50th anniversary achievement award, a special permanent patch created especially for Scouting Golden Jubilee anniversary in 1960.

To earn this award, each boy earned personal achievement in rank, recruited a new member, kept himself fit, rendered service to others, and took part in last fall's Get-Out-the Vote campaign.

There will also be meetings with parents as guests, unit reunions, functions honoring new Eagle scouts, scout handicraft exhibits, window displays, observances in schools, and courts honor in which scouts will be honored for their accomplishments.

2nd Quarter Play Decisive, Knights Play 2 This Weekend

BY BILL SLUIS

Paced by Skip Kruzich's 21 points, the Knights of Lincoln-Way held the upper hand all the way from the first quarter's end and administered a 51-41 defeat to the Carl Sandburg Eagles, Friday night. The loss virtually ended Sandburg's chance at the SouthWest Suburban crown.

The first quarter was a tense, see-saw affair. At period's end the Knights had barely eked out a 10-9 margin. Nothing had yet been decided.

But the second quarter left the Eagles squawking. With Skip Kruzich showing the way with eight markers, the Knights pulled away from Sandburg and built up a 22-16 halftime margin. The Eagles were victimized by Lincoln-Way's brilliant defensive patterns, and scored only seven points in the important second quarter.

The Eagles were unable to rally in the third quarter, enabling Lincoln-Way to pad the lead. Duane Warning's six points and Skip Kruzich's five set the tone in giving Lincoln-Way a 38-28 advantage at the opening of the fourth quarter.

The Knights protected their lead in the fourth quarter, holding the visitors from the north to a 13-13 deadlock. Despite two buckets each by Paul Busch and Ron Lindgren, the Eagles were in arrears 51-41 when the final buzzer sounded.

The Eagles went flapping home to their Orland Park roost with two red lances buried in their backs. The first injury was sustained Dec. 2, when the Knights won 47-38 at Sandburg.

Two more blockades face the championship bound Knights this week-end. Friday night they will journey to Oak Lawn to face the Spartans, who have been the doormat this season. Saturday night they will face the Reavels Rams in the comfortable confines of the Lincoln-Way gymnasium. Lincoln-Way has had little trouble with either team earlier this season and should win both jousts by comfortable margins.

Knights 10 12 16 13 — 51
Eagles 9 7 12 13 — 41
High Scorers — Skip Kruzich 21; Duane Warning 14 (L-W)
Lance Roberts 16; Ron Lindgren 10 (C.S.)

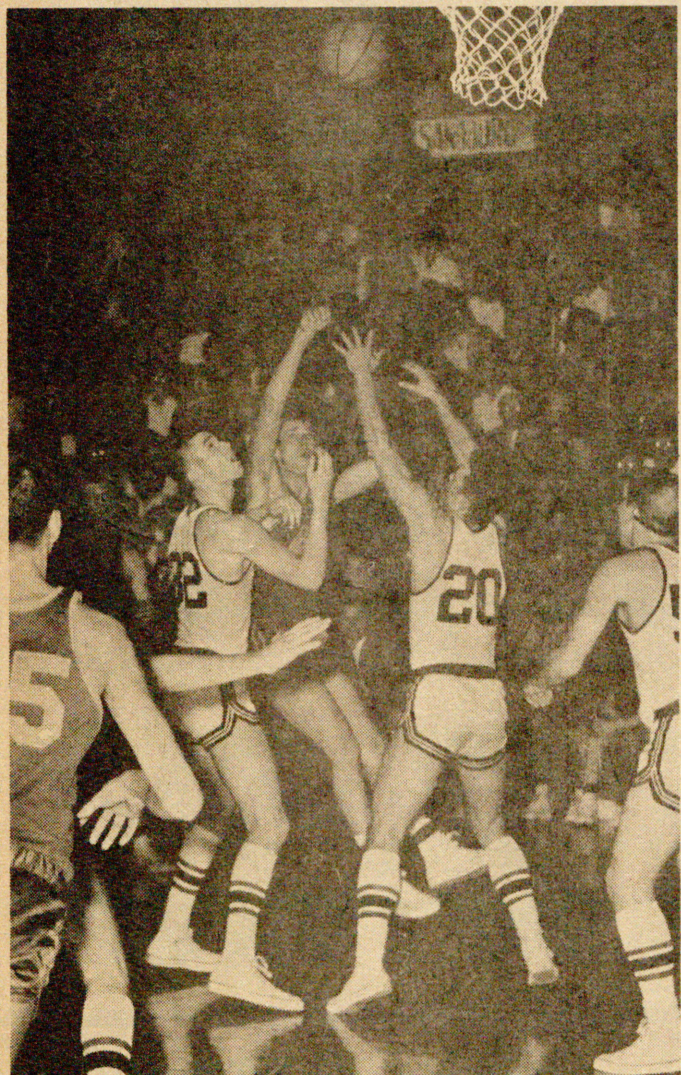

WHEN THINGS AREN'T WHAT THEY SEEM—This looks as if a group of basketball players with a timeout on their hands were utilizing the interval for a session with the galloping dominos or a hot mumblety-peg game but that just shows you how appearances can be deceiving. What these lads (the one in the dark suits are Sandburg players are doing is something you wouldn't guess right off, unless you are an exceptionally good guesser. They are looking for a contact lens. It had dropped out of the eye of Lance Roberts and was he glad when his teammate Paul Busch (No. 33) found it. Lance is just reaching down to take it out of Paul's hand, No. 45, the other kneller, is Bill Gourney. Expensive things, those contact lenses, and they will pop out.

A CHANGE IS GOOD—it relaxes, soothes, gives one a fresh outlook on problems. Take these basketball players, for example, representing Lincoln-Way and Sandburg high schools. They had been passing, dribbling and throwing the ball all evening so rolling it around on the floor is really different. No. 11, Sandburg's Duane Erickson, is getting a change by sitting down. The photographer was in the act too. He decided to vary things a bit by cutting off heads AND torsos.

Sweet Sixteen Finals To Be On TV Again

The Illinois high school association basketball tournament will mark its 10th year on television Saturday, March 18.

It is the oldest annual high school basketball tournament telecast in the country and will be viewed by an estimated 21/2 million persons.

Albert Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Association said the Illinois Bell originated the telecast in 1952 in cooperation with the IHSA and has sponsored it every year since.

An II - station network will broadcast the semifinals and finals of the tournament Saturday from Huff Gymnasium in Champaign, WBKB (Channel 7) will be the Chicago outlet.

Noted sportscasters Jack Drees, Chick Hearn and Tom Kelly will announce the tournament.

The Saturday telecast of the semifinals will begin at 1 p.m. and the evening program — the third place and championship games—will begin at 7:30. The defending state champion is Marshall of Chicago, which defeated Bridgeport, 79-55, in last year's title game.

Civil War Centennial Will Lure Travelers To East And South

This year — 1961 — ushers in the beginning of the five-year centennial observance of the Civil War. As the year progresses, Americans throughout the country will be hearing and reading much about the many ceremonies that will be staged to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the start of the War Between the States.

Many Americans will want to participate in some of the centennial pageants and programs, and large numbers of tourists are expected to visit the historic Civil War battle sites and national monuments scattered throughout the south and East.

To facilitate interest in the centennial, the Chicago Motor Club's touring department has prepared a list of some of the major commemorative events scheduled for 1961 and some of the key battles of 1861. The ceremonies and re-enactments will range in scope from programs requiring only a handful of participants to those which utilize extensively planned pageants.

With the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860, talk of secession among the Southern states came to a head. In December of that year South Carolina became the first of the many Southern states to secede. Thruout the South ceremonies will be held to commemorate this important event in American history. Some of the major ceremonies are:

Jan. 26, re-enactment of the signing of secession ordinance, Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 4, Confederate Constitutional convention commemorative ceremony, Montgomery, Ala.; Feb. 12-18, commemoration of the inauguration of Jefferson Davis, Montgomery, Ala.

On March 4, 1961, Lincoln was inaugurated as president. To commemorate this event, which preceded by little more than a month the outbreak of hostilities, a re-enactment of the swearing - in ceremonies will be conducted March 3 before a joint session of Congress in Washington, D. C. The following day a parade and inaugural ball will be held in Washington to commemorate the inauguration.

On April 12, 1861, Confederate artillery began shelling Fort Sumter, the federal stronghold situated on an island at the entrance to the harbor of Charleston, S. C. The 100 Federal soldiers in the fort surrendered and the war had begun. A re-enactment of the event will be held at Charleston on April 12.

A Boy Scout pilgrimage to Lincoln's tomb in Springfield, Ill., has been tentatively scheduled for April 30. A ceremony will be held at the tomb on that day.

A re-enactment of the Battle of Lexington, Mo., will be staged May 18. Popularly known as the "Battle of the Hemp Bales," it ended in victory for the Confederate forces. The battle site now is a state park, Anderson House, which overlooks the battlefield, was used as a field hospital during and after the encounter and now contains a museum.

The first Union victory occurred at Phillippi, W. Va., on June 3, 1861. The Battle of Phillippi will be commemorated there with a five-day pageant ending with ceremonies on June

3. The first battle of Manassas (also known as Bull Run) found the armies of the North and South struggling to capture this strategic railroad junction in Virginia. This was the first major battle of the Civil War. The conflict, which took place on July 21, ended with the Virginia city in Confederate hands. It was in this battle that Gen. Jackson received his nickname "Stonewall." A re-enactment of this important event in the war will be staged at Manassas July 22-23.

A commemorative ceremony is scheduled Aug. 7 in Hampton, Va., in memory of the burning of the city in August, 1861. At that time the inhabitants and a Confederate force under Gen. Magruder burned the town rather than allow it to fall into Union hands.

Among the other historic battle sites and campaigns of 1861 are the attack of the Manassas against the Federal fleet blockading the mouth of the Mississippi River, Oct. 12; the battle of Ball's Bluff, Va., Oct. 21; and the Federal amphibious Army-Navy expedition to capture Port Royal, S. C., Nov. 7.

These are some of the ceremonies that will be taking place thruout the year to commemorate the great historic events of the Civil War. (For additional information contact Public Relations, FRanklin 2-1818)

Former JTHS Head Joins Lewis Staff

Hugh S. Bonar, recently retired superintendent of Joliet township high school and president of Joliet junior college, where he served for the past thirteen years, has joined the faculty at Lewis college as a member of the education department with the rank of associate professor, as announced by Brother Louis De LaSalle, dean of the college. He previously served a superintendent of schools in Manitowish, Wis., for a period of sixteen years, and is a member of honor societies in public speaking, English, education, and social science.

During World War II, Mr. Bonar served as manager of industrial relations in the steel industry in Chicago, and, also, as industry panel member for the sixth regional War labor Board. From 1945-47 he taught industrial relations courses in the department of management at Northwestern university.

Mr. Bonar, during the past several years, has addressed many state and lay groups and has conducted many studies related to educational problems which have been summarized in annual reports to Boards of Education. During his administration, Joliet township high school and junior college was one of nine schools used as pilot schools in the early phase of the Illinois state curriculum studies project. He is the author of many books and articles for professional and lay magazines, and has acted as chairman of several professional committees.

Honor Girls With Party On 15th Birthday

Miss Nancy Smith and Miss Sheri Nieland both of Frankfort entertained 20 guests Saturday evening, Jan. 21 in the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nieland, in honor of their fifteenth birthdays.

A scavenger hunt comprised the entertainment and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nieland and Mrs. Harold Smith, mother of Nancy and also assisted by Mrs. Charles Perkins of Joliet.

Orland Home Bureau Meets Spencer Home

The monthly evening meeting of the Orland Home Bureau unit was held in the home of Mrs. Mary Spencer of Worth on January 20, with 17 members present.

During the business meeting plans were made to attend the annual dinner meeting, Tuesday Jan. 24 at the Spinning Wheel. Mrs. Marvin Cooper gave a report on 4-H activities and their annual dinner held at Kankakee last week.

Next unit meeting will be Friday, Feb. 17 in the home of Mrs. Marie Zelinski 5660 West 127th street, Worth. Refreshment hostesses will be Mrs. A. Sauerbier and Mrs. G. Sawyers.

L-W Students Win Awards In Debating Tournament

A Lincoln-Way senior, James Lakin, of New Lenox, won the silver medal awarded to the second outstanding debater on the negative side in the second annual Lincoln-Douglas debate tournament held last week-end at Lincoln-Way high school. There were 25 school competing. Evanston won the tournament with a score of nine wins and one loss but the traveling trophy went to Joliet for having defeated Evanston in the final debate. Joliet finished second with a score of 8 and 2 and Lincoln-Way and Rich were tied for third with scores of 7 and 3.

Bremen finished 5 and 5. Sandburg finished down in the standings.

Richard Snyder, of Evanston, won the gold medal as outstanding negative debater. John Schmidt, Evanston, won the gold medal for the affirmative side and Evelyn King, Joliet, took the silver medal.

Incidentally it was Miss King's rebuttal in the finals with Evanston that many observers believes was largely instrumental in Joliet's victory.

Kay Van Rheeden, of Frankfort, who has been quite successful in debating was awarded a certificate for outstanding debating by piling up an impressive 105 points.

Last year when the first debating tourney was held at Lincoln-Way there were 15 schools entered. This year there were 25 and next year it is expected the entries will exceed the 30 mark.

The question debated this year was: "Resolved, that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened."

The speaker at the dinner last Saturday night in the school cafeteria was Thomas Cause, of the R. H. Donnelly Co., printers, and a member of the board of the United Nations Association of Chicago.

Jailed For Blocking Road

William D. Roberts, 22, of New Lenox, was confined in the county jail, following his arrest Saturday night by State Trooper Paul Ferband.

Roberts' car was found blocking the intersection of Route 6 and Cedar road. There was no one in the car at the time. Trooper Ferband found Roberts in a nearby home and discovered that the latter was intoxicated.

Mokena Man's Brother On South Seas Mercy Mission

Dr. Thomas A. Angland, of Yakima, Wash., brother of Maurice Angland, of Mokena, investment broker whose columns on business and finance appear in this paper, is going to spend the next three months in the South Seas.

Dr. Angland, who is an orthopedic specialist, is to join the American hospital ship, "HOPE," as a teacher in his field. He received an invitation from Dr. William B. Wash, president and founder of Project HOPE several weeks ago and is to leave Yakima Feb. 4 by plane for Indonesia, the first leg of the journey.

The project is financed by U. S. industry and individuals. The ship was provided by the U. S. government.

The Yakima doctor, who has been in practice there since 1934 — with time out for World War II and advanced study and teaching at the University of Iowa, will join the Hope's staff of 63 doctors, nurses and technicians, all of whom serve without pay. The staff serves as instructors for Indonesian doctors and nurses.

Hundreds of patients flock to the ship for treatment. Operations are performed, treatments provided and medicines furnished without cost to the patients.

Indonesia was chosen as the starting point for the project, it was said, because it is plagued by disease.

The letters that form HOPE stand for "Health Opportunity for People Everywhere."

Roy Benson Speaks Before Jr. Woman's Group

When members of the Orland Park Junior Women's club met recently in the Legion Hall, Roy Benson, local realtor and candidate for re-election as Orland township justice of the peace, gave an interesting talk on local and county court systems. He explained a day in court and what rights an individual has that appears in court. A question and answer period followed his speech.

Mrs. Robert Johnson presided at the first meeting of the new year and Mrs. Oscar Enk, Fine Arts chairman reported on the attractive table setting for a child's birthday party which was displayed at the Third District Junior Woman's club winter meeting and fashion show at the Roosevelt school, Dolton on January 13. Models at the fashion show representing this club were Mrs. Ernst Bengtson, who modeled a dress made by Mrs. Henry Rafcz and Mrs. Johnson modeled two costumes which she had made. Proceeds from the show will be used to aid mentally retarded children.

Serving home-made apple pie and coffee were Mrs. James Whiteford, Mrs. William Nelson and Mrs. Robert Averill, hostesses for the evening.

EDO CAMPI AND JANE BERLIN

Explain Foreign Student Financial Plan To Lions

Edo Campi and Jane Berlin, students from Lincoln-Way high school, spoke at the Frankfort Lions club meeting last Thursday evening, opening the "Share in the Fare" program.

The "Share in the Fare" program has as its end the bringing of another foreign student to Lincoln-Way high next year and send a student abroad for the summer.

Edo Campi, one of the speaking, is a native of Italy currently living with the Edwin Yunker family near Mokena and attending Lincoln-Way.

Jane Berlin, resident of New Lenox and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Berlin, spent the summer in Argentina on the American Field Services foreign exchange student program.

The American Field Service international foreign exchange scholarship program was founded thirteen years ago "as an open door which leads to understanding and friendship among the people of the world".

Lincoln-Way has participated in this program for the past three years, sending Kaye Gersch to Germany and Jane Berlin to Argentina. Lincoln-Way has had foreign students; Ella Jensen from Denmark, Hanna Heymann from Germany and this year's foreign exchange student from Italy, Edo Campi. A "Share in the Fare" of one foreign student next year and one student going abroad opened with the Lions meeting in Frankfort. Organization shares will be issued in $10 denominations. Individuals may buy a share for $5.

The 1961-62 goal has been set at $1300. Of this amount $300 will be contributed by the Lincoln-Way student council, $1,000 remains to be subscribed by local church and community organizations, as well as individuals.

Blame Ice For Crashes

Two drivers, from Mokena and Frankfort, escaped injury Thursday morning following a truck-auto collision on Route 30, one mile east of Route 45.

Driver of the car was Gerald Mankowski, 21, of Frankfort. He was cited for driving too fast for conditions.

According to State Trooper John Cora, Mankowski's auto skidded on the ice and slid into a dump truck driven by Stanley Brown, 34, of Mokena. The truck went into the ditch but no one was injured.

Two other drivers escaped injury in a collision on U. S. 30, about 200 feet west of U.S. 45 last Thursday morning. A car driven by a nun, Sister M Jean Lucid, 740 W. Marion st., Joliet, slid on the ice as she was slowing for the stop and struck a car that had skidded off the pavement and was partly in the ditch. The second car was owned by Billy Rinkenberger, of 709 Abe st., Joliet. Rinkenberger was not in the car at the time, having left it to go for help. According to Frankfort Police Chief Frank Simon, who investigated the accident, the damage to the two cars amounted to approximately $350.
